Terms and conditions for taking part in the Great Nottinghamshire Bike Ride
The following terms and conditions apply to the Great Nottinghamshire Bike Ride (GNBR). Please note that all individuals and organisations will be requested to sign up to the terms and conditions when they apply to participate in the GNBR. Acceptance The staging of the GNBR is conditional on Nottinghamshire County Council receiving a sufficient number of applications to make the event cost effective. As an acknowledgement of acceptance rider packs will be sent out to all applicants on a weekly basis starting from 1 May. Payment Event participants must pay in full at the time of submitting their entry form whether on-line or through the post. Refunds Participants withdrawing from the event will not be entitled to a refund. Cancellation will incur a charge of 100 percent of the full entry cost. Event cancellation It may be necessary to cancel or postpone the GNBR for safety reasons. This will be done summarily or in consultation with participants depending on the conditions. In the case of cancellation Nottinghamshire County Council would seek to give a prompt refund of the entry fee to participants. In the case of the event being rescheduled, Nottinghamshire County Council may set refund limitations. Participants will be responsible for any cancellation charges on transport and accommodation and any other costs they may incur. Children Children must be accompanied by an adult. Parents of young children are reminded that taking part in the GNBR can be physically taxing and requires a reasonable degree of riding skill to be completed safely. Please think carefully about which route will suit your child. Parents using baby trailers and children carriers are asked to check that they are fitted correctly and being used in the approved manner under the manufacturers instructions. 5,000 cyclists can be daunting for babies and very young children. Photographs Nottinghamshire County Council will take photographs during the GNBR for the purposes of advertising, fundraising, display, exhibition or promotional use in connection with cycling and/or County Council services. This might involve their use in printed material and on the internet. By taking part in the GNBR you are acknowledging that your image and the image of those riding with you may be taken in a group or individual context. Where you are a parent of a child participant you will be acknowledging on your child or children's behalf. You will waive any right that you may have to inspect and approve the finished product or copy that may be used in connection with you, your child or children's image that any Nottinghamshire County Council appointed photographer has taken. Liabilities There are risks and dangers inherent in participating in the GNBR. In order to take part, and minimise these risks participants must: • agree to abide by the rules of the road • understand that they have a responsibility for their own health and safety as well as for other participants, road users etc • acknowledge that they are physically capable of participating in and completing the GNBR • acknowledge that they have been strongly advised by Nottinghamshire County Council to wear a properly fitted cycling helmet whilst riding • understand that they enter the GNBR at their own risk. Neither the organising committee, nor its constituent organisations can accept responsibility for personal accident, loss or damage to bicycles or equipment, loss of personal effects or any public liability.
