

1. What is Disability Related Expenditure? (DRE)

Some people have to pay for equipment or services or have higher than average outgoings because they have a disability or long-term health condition. These costs may be allowable as DRE when working out how much you need to pay towards the cost of your support arranged by the Council.

Nottinghamshire County Council (NCC) allows a standard £20 per week for these costs in all cases, but if you think this isn't enough to cover your DRE, a higher amount can be allowed based on a person's assessment.

Your social care worker will discuss your DRE allowances with you when they are planning or reviewing your support. It is important that DRE is considered in all care and support assessments and reviews to ensure people do not pay more than they should towards their care, especially as the current cost of living crisis is causing financial hardship for many.

2. Things to think about

It can be difficult to think about DRE and what this means to you, or the person you care or advocate for. Try to think about day-to-day life and what additional costs you have because of your disability or long-term health condition. This factsheet lists the main DRE costs that can be allowed (Section 4) but these are just examples, and you may have costs that aren't on the list that can be allowed.

3. How much will I be allowed?

In some cases, the Council will allow a fixed amount for a particular service or cost. (See examples in section 8). In other cases, the Council will allow additional costs because you pay more for something.

If you buy specialist equipment, such as a wheelchair, the weekly cost of this will be averaged over the life span of the item. Purchase price £5,000 which needs to be replaced every 5 years. £5,000 divided by 5 to get an annual cost (£1,000) then divided by 52 to get a weekly cost (£19.23).

Some costs may need to be agreed with your social care worker. If your needs change during the replacement period, for example due to a change in health circumstances, then this can be adjusted if agreed with your social care worker. The Council may only make a partial allowance for some items where a cheaper alternative is available, or the service is available free of charge from the NHS.

4. DRE allowances

If your bills are higher than these weekly amounts, you may be allowed the difference between these and the amount you pay as DRE. If you share your house with other adults, we will only allow for your individual costs.

Household Bills	Amount
Fuel (gas /electricity etc)	£22.84 per week

5. What evidence does the Council need?

In most cases the Council will need to see 3 months of receipts of expenditure. If you haven't saved any receipts, then these can be sent in later. If you made a purchase a while ago and can't provide a receipt a bank statement or warranty can be accepted.

6. What happens next?

You will be notified of the amount you have to contribute towards the cost of your care by Adult Care Financial Services. This will include a breakdown of your DRE allowance if it is over £20 per week. This will be reviewed by Adult Care Financial Services (ACFS) in April every year automatically.

8. Examples of DRE Calculations

James purchased a specialist wheelchair which cost £3,600. The life span of the item is 10 years. DRE for this item would be calculated as follows
 $£3,600 \div 10 \text{ years} \div 52 \text{ weeks} = £6.92 \text{ per week}$.

Ameer has PIP Mobility at the Standard Rate (currently £26.90). He takes a wheelchair taxi to and home from the day activities he attends each week, which costs him £52. His travel costs are therefore $£52 - £26.90 = £25.10$. His DRE for this item would be $£25.10 - £7.57 = £17.53$.

Andrea is a wheelchair user who lives in a rented property. She is responsible for general maintenance of the property and garden.

Andrea needs to employ a gardener for an hour a week but only for 6 months a year. The cost for each visit is £15 which equates to £7.50 a week over the whole year. £7.50 a week is therefore her DRE allowance for gardening.

She has her flat decorated every 3 years which costs her £750 for labour or £250 per year (= £4.81 a week). For decorating, the Council allows up to £280.53 per year (= £5.40 per week). Andrea would therefore only be allowed £4.81 per week DRE towards her decorating.

Her Total DRE costs are therefore $£7.50 + £4.81 = £12.31$ per week.

As these examples do not exceed the standard weekly £20 DRE amount already allowed no change is required.

John has an assistance dog and has to pay for numerous items such as dog food/treats, flea and worming treatments, insurance, some vets fees, grooming and inoculations, dog beds, etc. the total cost of which is £2,500 a year (£48.07 a week). John also has to pay a cleaner and gardener each week at an additional cost of £30.00. His total weekly DRE amounts to £78.07. His additional DRE over the standard £20 is therefore £58.07.
