Introduction

This EqIA is for:	Use of Direct Payments
Details are set out:	C04 Option for Change
Officers undertaking the assessment:	Kate Rush, Commissioning Officer
Assessment approved by:	Caroline Baria, Service Director, Strategic Commissioning, Access and Safeguarding	Date: Oct 2015

The Public Sector Equality Duty which is set out in the Equality Act 2010 requires public authorities to have due regard to the need to: Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation; Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not; Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.

The purpose of carrying out an Equality Impact Assessment is to assess the impact of a change to services or policy on people with protected characteristics and to demonstrate that the Council has considered the aims of the Equality Duty.

Part A: Impact, consultation and proposed mitigation

1 What are the potential impacts of proposal? Has any initial consultation informed the identification of impacts?

This proposal sets out the intention to increase take-up of both Direct Payments (DPs) and the employment of Personal Assistants (PAs) using those DPs. In order for this to happen various approaches are described which will stimulate the market for PAs, improve recruitment and employers' compliance with legal requirements as well as ensuring robust systems for vetting individuals who wish to work as PAs. In addition the Council intends to improve the processes by which DPs are administered and monitored.

- Increasing the take-up of DPs and use of PAs: the evidence from successive evaluations¹ of DPs suggests that recipients from all groups generally benefit from the use of a DP, with additional benefits for all groups of employing a PA as opposed to using agency support. Little evaluation is available regarding the impact of DPs and the employment of PAs on people from Black and Minority Ethnic (BME) groups but "Trust is the Key" suggests that take-up of DPs amongst some BME groups may be low.² The work undertaken as part of this proposal should help increase the numbers of PAs from all ethnic backgrounds.
- Facilitating discharge from hospital using PA support: as above, with the added benefit that there will be consistent support from a trained worker, with whom the individual can develop a relationship, at a time when they are likely to be feeling particularly vulnerable.

- Market development and improvement of processes (including bringing Disclosure & Barring and the provision of Employers' Liability insurance in-house) should benefit all groups in terms of the availability of potential employees. Vulnerable people who wish to employ a PA can be sure appropriate safety checks have been done and that they are enabled to comply with their legal responsibilities as employers.

The impact of the roll-out of pre-paid debit cards has already been considered in a previous EqIA in October 2014.

How do the potential impacts affect people with protected characteristics What is the scale of the impact?	How might negative impact be mitigated or explain why it is not possible	How will we consult
