

Inspire Learning and its sub-contracted Community Learning providers, put on courses specifically for learners with learning disabilities in day services.

We have noticed that the percentages of learners who attend these courses, who are from an ethnic minority background, or are from a 'white other' (i.e. non-white British) background, are much lower than in the general population.

It would be useful for us to know what the percentages are of those service users using day services who have a learning disability and are from the groups mentioned above.

Please see below. Percentages for 1) YA with day services and 2) YA LD with day services 2018-19 to December.

(% calculated excluding any people where ethnicity unknown or not stated)
