The Public Sector Equality Duty which is set out in the Equality Act 2010 requires public authorities to have due regard to the need to: Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation; Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not; Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.

The purpose of carrying out an Equality Impact Assessment is to assess the impact of a change to services or policy on people with protected characteristics and to demonstrate that the Council has considered the aims of the Public Sector Equality Duty.

Part A: Impact, consultation and proposed mitigation

1 What are the potential impacts of the proposal? Has any initial consultation informed the identification of impacts?

The school admission arrangements apply to all children living in Nottinghamshire and whose parents will be applying for school places for them in Nottinghamshire schools for the academic year 2023-2024.

The admission arrangements also set out the County Council's coordinated admission arrangements for applications for reception school places, transfer from infant to junior school, transfer from primary to secondary school and transfer to a school with an atypical age of admission. They set out: the oversubscription criteria; how parents apply for school places; how places are allocated if there are more applications than places available; how waiting lists are managed in accordance with the oversubscription criteria. These arrangements are renewed annually and the County Council is required to consult on any proposed changes. All responses to the statutory consultation process were considered in relation to equalities issues. The arrangements are applied for admissions to schools from September 2023.

- The County Council is proposing a review of the relevant areas
- Change to decrease the published admission number (PAN) for Radcliffe on Trent Junior School

The admission arrangements must be determined by 28 February 2022 and published by 15 March 2022.

In drawing up the arrangements, the Council considers whether it is possible that proposed changes might have a negative or unfair impact on any particular protected group of people. If there is a possibility of a negative impact, the Council would need to evidence that, in making the decision, it has shown due regard to how people in that protected group will be affected, and what mitigating actions would be put into place or why mitigating actions cannot be put into place.

The changes to admission arrangements for 2023-2024 are not expected to be adversely detrimental to the education of children within Nottinghamshire and will not adversely affect children in any protected group. The arrangements meet with the requirements of the School Admissions Code 2021.

2 Protected Characteristics: Is there a potential positive or negative impact based on:

Age	<input type="checkbox"/> Positive	<input type="checkbox"/> Negative	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Neutral Impact

3 Where there are potential negative impacts for protected characteristics these should be detailed including consideration of the equality duty, proposals for how they could be mitigated (where possible) and meaningfully consulted on:

How do the potential impacts affect people with protected characteristics What is the scale of the impact?	How might negative impact be mitigated or explain why it is not possible	How will we consult

Part B: Feedback and further mitigation

4 Summary of consultation feedback and further amendments to proposal / mitigation

The majority of consultees agreed with the proposals.

Completed EqlAs should be sent to equalities@nottscc.gov.uk for publishing on the Council's website before any decision is made.
