Introduction

The Nottinghamshire County Council Records Retention and Disposal Schedule is arranged by function rather than departments and their hierarchical structures. The act of moving teams between departments does not usually result in a change to the authority's functions. This approach enables the schedule to reflect the business of the authority regardless of the reporting structure of its officers.

Scope

This document provides details of the records created and retained by NCC, including those managed by Inspire's Records Management Service. Records created or processed by a commissioned partner, where that partner is processing on behalf of NCC are also included.

This document applies to all information which record the transactions of NCC whether they be held in paper or electronic format.

Please note this is a working document and is being reviewed.

Objectives of the Schedule

The aims of this document are to:

Prevent the premature destruction of records that need to be retained for a specified period to satisfy legal, financial and other requirements of public administration, for example, the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse.

Support compliance with the Data Protection Act, the Freedom of Information Act, the UK General Data Protection Regulation and other relevant legislation.

Provide consistency for the destruction of those records not required permanently in order to reduce the costs of unnecessary storage.

Promote improved Records Management practices within NCC which gives the public confidence that when information is destroyed it is done so according to well-considered rules.

Assist in identifying records that may be worth preserving permanently as part of the authority's archives.

Responsibilities

Group Managers and Team Managers are responsible for ensuring:

- Record retention disposal schedules, policies and procedures are implemented in their teams.
- Recordkeeping systems and arrangements of records enable identification of records due for disposal.
- Records due for disposal are routinely identified and reviewed to ensure they are no longer required.
- Divergence from this schedule is authorised by the Information Asset Manager
- Staff dispose of records only in accordance with the approved NCC disposal policy and procedures.
- Records are disposed of appropriately considering their sensitivity, security classification and the media and format in which they are held.
- ICT equipment and storage media are disposed of securely ensuring all records, data and information are removed in such a way that it is not recoverable.
- Records of potential historic interest or research value are identified and transferred to Nottinghamshire Archives.
- Evidence of the disposal process is kept.

All staff are responsible for:

- Following procedures and guidance for managing, retaining and disposing of records.
- Only disposing of records in accordance with the requirements outlined in this document (if authorised to do so).
- Ensuring that any divergence from this schedule is authorised.

Standard Retention Durations

The County Council has approved plans to standardise retention durations so they can be more efficiently applied, predominantly on the County Council's Microsoft 365 platform but also across other business systems which hold records including hard copy paper records.

Other than a short period for transitory operational items, the County Council has adopted a default rule of retaining documents for 7 years. This aligns with the right to launch certain types of claim under the Limitation Act 1980. Where the 7-year rule is not appropriate, other standard retention periods are available.

A trigger date is the date that commences a records retention period. A wide range of events can be the trigger date to commence a retention period. These will vary from service to service and will be specified in this Records Retention and Disposal

Schedule. For example, an employee's leaving date will be the trigger to commence the retention period of their employment record.

The agreed standard retention periods are set out in the table below:

Ref	Retention Period	Additional information
RD1	Trigger date + 1 year then destroy	This will apply to transient data awaiting final deletion. instance, paper documents when they are input into an electronic system (i.e. entered onto a database); survey responses related to prize draws that have taken place etc.
RD2	Trigger date + 7 years then destroy	This aligns with the right to launch certain types of claim under the Limitation Act 1980. It is the Council's default retention period where there are no statutory retention requirements.
RD3	Trigger date +10 years then destroy	This will usually refer to specific kinds of records such as risk and emergency management. It may also include a response to an industry standard that is outside of the county council's control
RD4	Trigger date +12 years then destroy	This refers to certain sections of the Limitation act 1980 and also contract under seal.
RD5	Trigger date +15 years the destroy	This will be predominantly applied to some children's records as well as some land and highways records.
RD6	Trigger date +25 years	This will be predominantly applied to children's records such as Early Help, Child in Need etc and items which have a longer life. It will also be applied to pupil and children's data outside of social care and the trigger will be DoB.
RD7	Trigger date +35 years then destroy	This will be predominantly applied to children's records such as Special Educational Needs, Youth Justice etc.
RD8	Trigger date +40 years then destroy	This will be predominantly applied to records of employees who have worked with children or vulnerable adults and some serious personnel health records (e.g. exposure to asbestos).
RD9	Trigger date +50 years then destroy	This will be predominantly applied to serious personnel health records (e.g. exposure to radiation).
RD10	Trigger date +75 years then destroy	This will predominantly cover anything to do with Children in Care.
RD11	Trigger date + 100 years then destroy	This will usually refer to specific kinds of records such as adoption orders.
RD12	Permanent. Offer to Notts Archive when no longer required.	This will relate to items which generally have been deemed to be of historic value by the Nottinghamshire Archive and therefore need to be kept 'permanently.' Such items should be transferred to the Nottinghamshire Archive for permanent preservation.

PUBLIC

Where none of these options is acceptable, including for statutory retention durations, the next available retention duration should be used. In exceptional circumstances the Data Protection Officer and relevant Information Asset Manager can agree on an addition to the list. Where issues about retention or disposal need further resolution, they will be considered by the Senior Information Risk Owner (SIRO).

The Council is in the process of reviewing the entire retention schedule in order to align all retention periods with the standard set provided above. This schedule will be updated accordingly as and when changes are approved. Consequently, the agreed standardised retention periods are not necessarily yet reflected in the retention periods set out below for specific record sets.

Disposal of Records

Records which are marked as destroy must be reviewed by an appropriate person prior to review, i.e. destruction is not an automatic action at the end of the stated retention period.

Where records are to be destroyed the consent of the Information Asset Manager must be confirmed in writing prior to such destruction.

In keeping with the standard retentions outlined above there is an intention to move to a position where documents and records will be destroyed by default at the end of their retention period subject to limited exceptions. This document will be updated accordingly to reflect this practice as part of future updates.

Destruction must be confidential where required and must comply with the relevant NCC policy and procedures.

Transfer of Records to Nottinghamshire Archives

Records of potential historic interest or research value should be identified and transferred to Nottinghamshire Archives via the Records Management Service (currently operated by Inspire on behalf of Nottinghamshire County Council).

‘Offer to Archivist for review’ is used to indicate record classes where the Archivist will not usually be interested in retaining the class of records, but may wish to retain those concerning high profile or controversial policies/projects.

The Archivist may choose to select a sample of the records for permanent preservation in the archives; the remainder should be destroyed as specified in the Schedule. The sample may be random, selective or purposeful.

Records no longer required for administrative use may still retain sensitive information. The Archivist should be informed of sensitivity at the time of transfer of the material to the archives, and an appropriate closure period agreed. The closure period should comply with Freedom of Information legislation and any internal policy.

The Data Protection Act provides an exemption for information about identifiable living individuals that is held for research, statistical or historical purposes to be held indefinitely, provided specific requirements are met. It is the responsibility of the Archivist to ensure that this is so.

Officers identifying records of historic value or which are noted as such in this schedule should contact the Records Management Service in the first instance.

Reviewing the Schedule

The schedule will be regularly reviewed and updated (every 6 months) by the Records Management Service to ensure that Nottinghamshire County Council is complying with the latest legislation and legal advice. Additionally, updates will take into account the position of ensuring that only a limited number of standardised retention periods are considered when determining how long records should be retained for, in keeping with the restricted list illustrated above.

Searching the Schedule

Aside from using the index, the schedule can be searched for specific words or phrases such as ‘youth support’ or ‘mental health’ using the find function. Pressing

PUBLIC

Ctrl+F and enter the word(s) in the dialogue box. On Apple computers Cmd+F should be used.
